

RIVAS BLAMES AMERICANS FOR BATTLE AT CARRIZAL

General in Command of Mexican Troops, After Gomez Had Been Killed, Makes Report.

TRIED TO PREVENT CLASH

"Enemy Forced to Flee," He Says, "Abandoning Their Dead, Their Horses and Arms"—Total Casualties 42 Dead and 43 Wounded.

DALLAS, TEX., July 12.—El Pueblo, official organ of the Carranza government, in its issue of July 1, received here today, prints the official report on the fight between Mexicans and American troops at Carrizal. The report, comes from Lieutenant-Colonel Genovevo Rivas, who took command of the Mexican troops after General Felix Gomez was killed. The report, made to General Gonzalez, at Juarez, and sent by him to Mexico City, follows:

"I have the honor to report to you that on June 21, at 7 A. M., an American force composed of eighty or 100 men appeared here. By order of General Felix G. Gomez, I went out to confer with the commander of said force to learn the object of its presence. He said he was looking for a camp of bandits that were in this vicinity.

"I told him there was no camp of bandits operating in this district—due to the perfect watchfulness of the Constitutional forces. He then said he was going to Villa Ahumada to look for a deserter, to which I replied that we had orders not to permit American troops to move in any direction except toward the north. He replied that such orders mattered nothing to him; that he had orders to go to Villa Ahumada, and that he would do so regardless of our bullets.

"After I had reported the result of the interview, General Gomez personally went to talk with the American commander, asking the same questions that I had asked a few minutes before. He did not want to lose time, and he told me that he would regret very much to be obliged to oppose the Americans with force, and made him the proposition that he wait three or four hours until the matter could be put before the military commander at Juarez by telephone.

"The haughty American commander replied that he did not want to lose more time, and that he would pass over us. My general replied that if he (the American commander) thought he was able to do so, to try it.

"My general retired with his escort to where our troops were, and the American commander returned to his troops.

"The American commander assembled his cavalry and advanced them in firing line against our forces, composed of the second, third and fourth squadrons of the Second Regiment, who remained in extended line without making any aggressive movement.

"The Americans opened fire at a distance of eighty meters, to which our soldiers gallantly replied, joining the combat. The fight was intense, and lasted for two hours, in which our first line sustained the enemy's fire with valor.

"General Gomez, having been killed early in the fight, I assumed the command, ordered the advance against the right flank of the enemy, and another squadron to advance on the left. The movements were made promptly and with precision, forcing the enemy to flee. The fight was intense, and lasted for two hours, in which our first line sustained the enemy's fire with valor.

"The report gives the names of thirty Mexicans killed, of whom eleven were officers, and forty-three wounded, of whom nine were officers.

"On the right bank of the river a night counterattack delivered by our troops east of the Punim wood made it possible for us to recapture a portion of the territory taken yesterday by the enemy. We took eighty prisoners, including one officer.

"In the Lorraine district, sector of Reillon, we drove the Germans back from certain trenches where yesterday they secured a footing.

"On the left bank of the river, two attacks upon one of our trenches at Dead Man's Hill failed completely under our fire.

to publish correspondence between Carter Glass and myself relative to his appointment. Please see Early and tell him I do not recall exact nature of correspondence, but, whatever it may be, there is no reason for its publication, and I do not care to establish such a precedent in connection with the public duties of the State Board of Taxation.

H. C. STUART
Under date of March 17, 1916, Stuart Prentiss, of the State Corporation Commission, wrote to R. Holl Easley, father of the deceased examiner, as follows:

My Dear Mr. Easley—I have your letter of March 16.

Replying thereto, I would say that there has been no conference whatever between the members of the State Tax Commission with reference to the appointment of examiners of records, so far as I am concerned, I have no disposition to remove any examiner of records, and I would certainly be disposed to continue in office any examiner who had been diligent in the performance of his duties as I know your son, James S. Easley, has been.

As above stated, however, the matter has not yet been considered by the board in any way, and I do not think that the law giving the State Tax Commission authority to make these appointments has yet become effective. With best wishes,

Very truly yours,
ROBERT R. PRENTISS.

OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Attorney Benjamin Watkins Leigh, who, it appears, took a leading part in the preparation of the charges against Examiner Easley that were filed with the Tax Board, made public last night, a legal brief covering five typewritten pages, in which he takes issue with Attorney-General Pollard as to the proper construction of the law respecting the reporting of moneys in the hands of receivers or special commissioners, subject to the control of the courts.

In his opinion on this subject, submitted to Executive Assistant Garnett of the State Tax Board, Mr. Pollard reached the conclusion that the several successive acts of the General Assembly assigning the duty of reporting this class of property alternately to the clerks and examiners, are to be regarded as cumulative and not repugnant to each other, and that, therefore, the duty of reporting this property was imposed on both the examiners of records and clerks of courts.

Mr. Leigh, reviewing the same field, comes to an opposite conclusion. The law, in his opinion, imposes on the examiners exclusively the duty of making these reports.

WANT BIG NITRATE PLANT AT MUSSLE SHOALS, ALA.

Resolution to Be Presented to Congress Adopted by Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 12.—The presentation and adoption of a resolution asking Congress to locate the proposed $20,000,000 nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., featured to-day's sessions of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association. The resolution was offered by J. H. Allison, of the Nashville, Tennessee-American, and copies will be forwarded to President Wilson and the Secretary of War.

"Should a Newspaper Become a Sales Agent for an Advertised Article?" was the subject discussed by H. C. Adler, of the Chattanooga Times. Mr. Adler, in his opinion, declared that a newspaper virtually loses its self-respect and the respect of the reading public when it submits to what he called the "free publicity graft."

President W. T. Anderson, of the Macon Telegraph, spoke of "Meeting the Increased Cost of Production." Mr. Anderson's address was followed by a lively discussion, in which nearly all present took part.

F. L. Seely, formerly of the Atlanta Georgian, discussed "Why the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association?" The convention of the publishers closed to-night with a banquet, at which William G. Shepherd, war correspondent of a press association, and W. T. Gentry, of Atlanta, president of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, were the principal speakers. Mr. Shepherd, who has just returned from Europe, related some of his experiences on various battle fronts.

Governor Locke Craig, of North Carolina, in discussing "The Greatest of the South" paid marked tribute to the growth of Southern industries in the last five years.

The 16 guests at the banquet were put in telephone communication between Asheville and San Francisco, Governor Craig, of North Carolina, addressing the Governor of California and receiving responses from the latter. S. C. Kingsbury, first vice-president of the American Bell Telephone Company, who was scheduled to speak, was unable to attend, but delivered his address to the assembled guests when the telephone from his home at Greenwich, N. J.

M. E. STONE DISCUSSES PRIVILEGES OF JOURNALISTS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RICHMOND, N. C., July 12.—The responsibilities and opportunities of the press are larger than those of any other profession, unless it be the church, declared Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, in an address to-night before the North Carolina Press Association. This country has granted great privileges to the journalist, and this liberty was achieved over a tortuous road, he said.

In view of this broad liberty and its powers, Mr. Stone cautioned the editors to write with a man's hand and honest in these terrible times, when war fires rage throughout the world.

J. G. JENKINS ELECTED BAR ASSOCIATION HEAD

Norfolk Lawyer Receives Forty-Six Votes at Convention to Fifteen for W. H. Venable.

OTHER OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

R. Gray Williams, of Winchester, in Paper, Suggests Changes in Law of Wills—Visit to Newport News Aviation School.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEWPORT NEWS, Va., July 12.—J. G. Jenkins, of Norfolk, to-day was elected president of the Virginia Bar Association, now in annual convention in the Hotel Chamberlin, Old Point.

The election of Mr. Jenkins followed the recommendation of the committee on nomination of officers, although A. E. Bilsby, of Norfolk, made a strenuous fight to have the association turn down the committee's nominee for president, and elect W. H. Venable, also of Norfolk. Mr. Bilsby criticized severely the tendency of the association to honor the older men, and said that the committee's nominee was a young and aggressive president, such as Mr. Venable would make. When the votes were counted, it was shown that Mr. Jenkins had received 46 to 15 for Mr. Venable. Then Mr. Bilsby asked that the election of Mr. Jenkins be made unanimous, which was done.

Other officers recommended and elected without opposition were, vice-presidents—Allen D. Jones, of Newport News; Harvey T. Hall, of Roanoke; Stuart B. Whitehead, of Nelson County; E. P. Buford, of Lawrenceville, and Hume A. West, of Lexington. Secretary-treasurer—John B. Minor, of Richmond. Delegates to the American Bar Association—Gardner L. Booth, of Alexandria; R. Gray Williams, of Winchester, and George S. Harnsberger, of Harrisonburg.

Mr. Bilsby opposed a resolution offered by Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, suggesting a paper read by R. Gray Williams to the committee on Code Revision of the Legislature. Mr. Bilsby wanted to have the paper referred to the committee on legislation instead of the committee on code revision. He was voted down by the overwhelming vote of 67 to 1.

"I wished to be recorded as voting against this action," declared the Norfolk attorney, and President Hunter announced that his wishes would be respected.

DISCUSSES WEAKNESS OF HOLOGRAPH WILL

Mr. Williams' paper was entitled "Some Suggested Changes in the Law of Wills in Virginia." Mr. Williams covered a vast deal of matter. He spoke nearly two hours, and received the closest attention. Mr. Williams' paper was entitled "Some Suggested Changes in the Law of Wills in Virginia." Mr. Williams covered a vast deal of matter. He spoke nearly two hours, and received the closest attention.

Mr. Williams discussed the frailties of the holograph will, especially as a measure to prevent forgeries. He also spoke of the danger of fraudulent alterations, in an unwritten will, the increased ease of defeating the testator's intent by the destruction of his holograph will, needed amendments to the statute providing for contests of a will when probated by the clerk of the court, and amendments to the statute to protect the title of a bona fide purchaser of real estate for value from the heir-at-law of a decedent against a devise of said realty without notice to such purchaser. In a will contest, he said, the issue should include all papers alleged to be testamentary, and the probate statute should provide the method of questioning the probate of a foreign will. Mr. Williams presented a number of changes, which he said he thought would be desirable.

This afternoon the delegates and friends visited this city and saw some flying "stunts" at the local aviation school. Later they inspected the big shipbuilding plant here.

The session to-night was brief. The special committee on enlarged membership reported, and the report was the subject of considerable discussion. It is planned by the committee to try to get as many as possible of the 1,500 lawyers in the state to join the association.

The report of the obituaries committee was presented by Judge George L. Christian, of Richmond, and will be published in the minutes.

Resolutions on the resignation of Judge James Keith were presented by Thomas R. Kay and adopted. The resolutions lauded Judge Keith as a man, attorney and jurist, and commended his fine sense of justice as a member of the highest court in the state.

An announcement by Lindsey M. Garrison, former Secretary of War, and the annual banquet at night will be features to-morrow.

Flood Conditions in South Improve

Rains Cease Almost Entirely, and Rivers and Streams Fall Rapidly.

Flood conditions in the South show marked improvement, except in the territory around Selma, Ala., the Clinton, Ala., district and the western tier of counties in Alabama. Rains have ceased entirely in most places, and rivers and creeks are falling rapidly. Clinton, just recovered from a rain fall of eighteen inches, experienced another heavy downpour to-day, causing more damage to crops and again flooding the streets.

The Alabama river continues to rise at Selma and Montgomery, but the Cahaba is receding slowly. A government towboat was sent from Selma to the Cahaba Valley to-day, loaded with food for the sufferers in that section. The crest of the flood is expected in the Selma District Thursday. Prattville reports the water falling. There has been no suffering there, though considerable property damage was done. Wetumpka, north of Montgomery, reports a similar condition.

Reports from Portland and King's Bend, below Selma, told of serious conditions, with the waters surrounding several homes. The Warrior and Soper rivers, in Western Alabama, are reported at flood stage. The Tombigbee is reported rising with the addition of food from Eastern and Western Mississippi.

Geneva County, in Southwest Alabama, says that every bridge in the country has been washed away, and all roads have been made impassable. The town of Geneva is inundated, the light and power plants are out of commission, and there is some distress among the inhabitants. There have been no more deaths there since Monday, when four persons were killed by lightning and drowning. Railroad traffic is entirely suspended throughout the county. The Choctawhatchee River is reported at flood stage.

All streams in the Birmingham district have gone back into their banks, after doing great damage to mining properties. Southwest Georgia streams are falling rapidly, and no more damage is expected in that state.

GOETHALS TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON, July 12.—President Wilson today agreed to accept the resignation of Major-General Goethals as Governor of the Panama Canal at an early date, to be fixed by the general. General Goethals called at the White House and again urged his desire to resign the governorship and to return to the active list of the army, now that his work of building the canal has been finished. Later the President authorized the statement that he reluctantly had left the matter in General Goethals's hands. Colonel Chester Harding, now engineer of maintenance in the Canal Zone, probably will be appointed Governor. General Goethals was promoted and given the right to retire by an act of Congress. He planned to give up his work several months ago, but drew his request because of renewed slides in the canal. He now thinks the danger of serious slides has been eliminated, and does not expect to return to Panama.
